CRAVE Coffee House

On behalf of the CRAVE Coffee House, let me extend a warm welcome! CRAVE Coffee House is located on Saint Louis University's south campus adjacent to the Learning Resources Center. The church itself was built over 122 years ago and has since undergone a serious renovation. CRAVE Coffee House has been open for over one year and has been hosting concerts every friday for that same amount of time. What signifies our venue is the open-sanctuary atmosphere. New and old are vibrant themes in our building; from time-tested, aged red brick to the polished, stainless steel esspresso machine, CRAVE offers both artists and listeners a unique experience in which communication and relation happen in many ways.

Musically, we look to host local musicians of varying style who appeal to the college-level age group, though we are open to any talented musician wishing to spread their work on our stage. The building is wired to our own A/V unit, so musicians need bring only their instruments, cables, and accessories (unless othwerise desired).

We invite you to join us every friday (unless othwerise noted on our website). If you'd like to book a show with us, head to our website and click on the "Live Music Contact" link at the bottom of the page.

We have a few motto's at Crave, amongst which is my personal favorite: "CRAVE: peace. coffee. more." There's more to our four walls than a church, coffee, or music.

I look forward to meeting anyone who ventures our way.
