Update for 2009 Christian Battle of the Bands

Last year's event was a great success and we definitely are excited about this year's possibilities. Details will continue to be posted to this blog on stlcm, but if you do have questions please feel free to contact me.

The Battle for the Prize (Christian Battle of the Bands) will take place on June 13. Many of last years details will be the same, but for now I have some simple adjustments. First, there will be more than one winner this year. Prize money will be awarded to each winner (the amounts will be decided later).

Second, the winner this year will not open for another concert. The Battle for the Prize was such an inspiration last year to many, and we believe this in itself is an incredible ministry to continue. The winner will solely receive a plaque of recognition and prize money.

More updates will become available as we continue planning. Any advice would be extremely helpful.

Early Summer 2009

We are now finalizing plans for another great experience of Battle for the Prize in luka, IL (just east of Salem, IL). We haven't quite determined an exact date, but please continue to watch and consider coming out in early June.

This will be an outdoor venue in a beautiful park in southern Illinois. We hope to encourage teens to commit their lives to Christ, encourage them to use their God gifted talents to glorify Him.

More information will be coming soon.

May God Bless
